

It recently came to my attention that the FCC is considering LPFM stations to take priority over current FM translators in service. I, and my family, listen to the radio nearly 7 or 8 hours a day, with K-Love being the station that is on for a majority of the time. Many that I know enjoy the station K-Love, and believe as a station it is unique and no alternative for it is offered. Please consider this and other stations when considering any stations. Also, thank you for regulating our air waves.
